

Housing - Enabling Infrastructure

Significant areas of development ready land exist (ie planning approvals are already in place), but construction cannot proceed due to delays in the provision of core enabling infrastructure (eg transport and utilities).

Our Ask - Support for enabling infrastructure

Investment in enabling infrastructure can open up $20 billion in direct housing development across the Hunter Region.

*Data captured from the local governments in the Hunter region highlighting the infrastructure requirements for their top three housing development areas.

Outcome

- Collaborative investment across all levels of government will deliver the enabling transport and community infrastructure needed to progress the rapid delivery of housing on existing development ready land.
- More sophisticated and collaborative place-based approaches to urban planning and investment across all levels of government.

Housing Case Studies

Significant areas of development-ready land exist in the Hunter, but construction is stalled due to delays in essential infrastructure like transport and utilities.

To assess the extent of the problem, Hunter JO and member councils gathered data in 2024 on:

- The top three cases where infrastructure gaps were blocking housing development
- Estimated investment needed to address these gaps
- The number of housing lots that could be unlocked

This data has been captured to help grasp the scale of the issue and the opportunity for the Hunter region to support the delivery of national housing targets.
